Peter Szental (Letters to the Editor 17/12/2004) rightly makes a point about energy efficiency having to be made in Australia as part of the overall debate in Australia.

However, Energy Retailers Association of Australia believes there is no on “silver bullet) to satisfy the growing demand for energy in Australia.

Effective policy must address the demand side and the supply side of the equation in order to satisfy Australia’s demand for energy growing at 3% per annum.

Yours faithfully
